55 apprentices complete final exams

MEYER WERFT's new professionals well qualified for the future

Papenburg, February 2, 2023 – MEYER WERFT is getting reinforcements: 44 trainees from MEYER WERFT, two trainees from RE Interior and one trainee from EMS PreCab have successfully completed their apprenticeships. The dual students were equally successful in passing their skilled worker exams: Seven dual students from MEYER WERFT and one dual student from MAC Hamburg are now continuing their studies to a Bachelor's degree.

"We are very pleased that our new skilled workers have mastered their final exams so well. During their training period, they got to know an exciting working environment and were able to acquire important knowledge for the construction of complex and innovative ships. This equips our graduates with future-proof skills," says Managing Director Bernard Meyer.

In a festive event in the auditorium of the shipyard, Bernard Meyer, Andreas Hensen (Chairman of the Works Council) and Erwin Siemens (Training Manager) congratulated the graduates on their success. Afterwards, the certificates were presented.

There are still apprenticeship places available in the MEYER Group for the start of training in September 2023. Information about the apprenticeships is available at www.meyer-career.com. Applications are also possible there.
